Has anyone used these redbox rentals? I love them - you swipe a debit or credit card and enter your email address and the movie pops out. It's .99 cents a night.

My friend just got a bunch of freebie codes too so I am excited - free movie nights!

I have not yet used RedBox but am seeing more and more machines out there. I was wondering about the quality of the DVD and if there were any issues with scratches or quality of picture. I was also wondering about movie availability and whether the one I wanted would be sold out. If you keep the movie longer than a day does it automatically charge you by the day?

Redbox is great! I have not yet experienced any quality issues, though availability can sometimes be an issue. Yes, it automatically charges your credit/debit card for number of days rented when you return the DVD.
