Subject: Romantic Comedy Recommendations?
Posted by GuitarStrings on Wed, 22 Dec 2010 01:24:04 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I have a lot of good action, adventure, and horror movies in my collection, but the one genre I'm always short on is romantic comedy. I simply haven't found any movie that isn't so corny that I'm not entertained longer than half an hour.

Does anyone know any good ones that are worth watching? I admit that I haven't seen all that many, but it'd be nice to take a break from my other movies and watch something different for a change.

Subject: Re: Romantic Comedy Recommendations?
Posted by GoodVibrations on Wed, 29 Dec 2010 04:13:33 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Well, it's an oldie but I loved 'Overboard' with Goldie Hawn and Kurt Russell; it was made in 1987. You gotta see it at least once. I am also a Sandra Bullock fan and loved an early movie she made at Christmastime called 'While You Were Sleeping'. That is one among several Christmas movies I watch each year.

For something more current.... not sure, but I like Katherine Heigl in just about any movie she makes.

Subject: Re: Romantic Comedy Recommendations?
Posted by woodfree on Thu, 30 Dec 2010 03:53:12 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I suggest you try "As Good As It Gets", starring Jack Nicholson and Helen Hunt. It's a feel-good, romantic story and is very entertaining. There are a lot of memorable moments in this film.