I'm starting to itch just a little. I only just gave my name to get on the audition list deal the other day.

No, I just gave them my info via email and I haven't heard anything yet. Hopefully soon! Russellc

It's a great little amp. I'm on the list to buy one. I auditioned it in the summertime, and there's no way I'd let the group buy pass me by. It's the best deal in its price range by a large margin, in my opinion. I like some of the other entry level tube amp kits too, but this one is sooooo much better. More clean power and better looks too. It's just a really fine little amp.
