After demoing and eventually purchasing a Stoetkit, I became intrigued with the Netherlands company, Heart Audio. I'm curious to know if anyone here has heard some of their other product offerings. I'm interested in the Heartbeat and the Western-Electric 300B outfitted version. And I'm also curious how their Stoetkit 2 compares, since it also uses 300B's.

They certainly look great, Wayne. Based on my listening of the Stoetkit, Jr. my guess is they sound pretty good too. Maybe they can send us all a sample to review?
