I don't have satellite radio and don't think it's something I will get because it's just extra money that I don't think I should be spending. Sometimes though, I wish I had satellite radio because I really miss listening to Howard Stern! I haven't heard him in years and I can't seem to find any recordings of his shows online or anything. Is he still the same as a few years ago? Still dirty as always? I'm guessing the answers are yes. I'm so happy for him being able to do his own thing!

I never could get into Stern. His ranting just became laughable after a while. I think he went overboard in getting the shock value in and left his message behind. At one point, some of what he was saying, at least, was good stuff.

His show is absolutely hilarious! I listen to it on my iPhone's Sirius app all the time. Funny guy.

I'm not a Howard Stern fan. I agree with woofer; he just does things for shock value and that quickly gets old. It's pretty sad when shock value loses its impact like that.
