Any JPOP fans here? I've recently started listening. My friend introduced me to Amuro Namie with her Past <Future album , and now I'm hooked! What do you guys think?

I've recently gotten into listening to some J-Pop, though most of the ones I know only come from what anime I happen to be watching at the time. I am a huge fan of Ayumi Hamasaki as well as Yoko Kanno and Utada.

I really love Utada's work for Kingdom Hearts. Simple and Clean is just an amazing song. It was stuck in my head for days after I finished playing KH!!

I'm not a big anime fan, but my friends are and they're the ones who make me listen to the songs haha
