I just bought my daughter a box of musical toys: maracas, hand cymbals, a drum and a triangle. That was a great decision because she loves them! The house is a bit noisier but she is happy.

It's the sound of joy filling the air! Don't you just love the look on their little faces when they discover all the noises they can make? I think they like to see our reactions too.

Oh yes, little kids love an audience. It is fun to watch them figure things out. I just wish I could get her to stop standing on the drum before she breaks it.

I remember when I was a kid I really wanted a xylophone and my parents got me one for Christmas. Why in the world a xylophone I haven't a clue. But I found out pretty quickly I wasn't any good at it. But I think it is great to give kids a musical instrument so they can learn about music and find out what they truly like. This will only help as they get older.
