Subject: Audio books
Posted by miss zoey on Wed, 06 Apr 2011 09:46:06 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

What is your take on audio books? Personally I'd really want to be able to listen to them but I get too easily distracted. The only place I could probably pay attention to an audio book is if you left me in a room with just a chair and white walls. I find it hard concentrating with audio books because my mind tends to drift away especially when I see something more interesting.

Subject: Re: Audio books
Posted by Wayne Parham on Wed, 06 Apr 2011 13:00:44 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I sometimes like to listen to them in the car on long trips.

Subject: Re: Audio books
Posted by Adveser on Thu, 07 Apr 2011 03:16:25 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I like the idea, but haven't found anything of value to listen to. The sound quality would require lossless too or the sound could be grating and distracting. I like books more than audiobooks, TBH and I can listen to music and read at the same time.

Subject: Re: Audio books
Posted by iDummy on Fri, 08 Apr 2011 03:15:40 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I really love audio books. There are some that are better produced than others, but in general, I found that the sound is really good. I have regular books, ebooks and audiobooks. They all have a place in my life.

Subject: Re: Audio books
Posted by Roxie on Sun, 10 Apr 2011 17:03:57 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I have never been more of a reader, however, I think I should give audiobooks a chance. Maybe they will get me more into reading. I wonder if the prices are affordable.