Do you know who invented the VCR? How do you think that person would feel with all the new technology? Do you still have VHS tapes?

I still have a VCR/DVD combo with a few movies. I feel so retro at times.

I still have several VHS tapes, mostly from when I was younger. We also have a DVD/VCR combo player. My mom is even more retro though. She still records TV shows on VHS tapes, somehow she is still able to do this with a few channels. I can't convince her to get a DVR, she's just used to what she does.
