We just got a Mazda5 and are enjoying a brand new radio/speaker system. We were used to a 99 Civic so you can imagine how bad the speakers had gotten.

The funny thing is that half the buttons on the dash are completely useless since we don't have satellite radio.

Congratulations! I just leased a Honda CRV yesterday. I can't believe the radio sounds so great. Mine doesn't have the satellite stuff but I am happy it has two auxiliary inputs so we can connect our iPods.

Congratulations to you too! Yes, having an auxiliary jack for mp3 players is awesome. I haven't yet tried out that feature on my car but it will come in handy during long trips.
