AudioRoundTable.com would like to welcome our newest sponsor, OddWatt Audio. We're proud to include them here at the Round Table.

OddWatt Audio will have their products on display at the Lone Star Audiofest next month, so be sure to stop by and give them a listen.

OddWatt audio was formed by passionate audio enthusiasts, DIYers that turned their love of audio into a product line. They produce tube amplifier kits at reasonable prices.

There will no doubt be many interesting discussions in the new OddWatt Audio forum, here at ART. You can reach them on their forum for pre-sales information and for product support.

We at AudioRoundTable.com are very pleased to be affiliated with OddWatt Audio.
