This is for everybody who can remember the good old days when we listened to records instead of CD's:

Doesn't he know a quarter placed on the tonearm will fix this problem?

He also needs a 4,000 dollar record clamp and you can't live without the 2,000 dollar record cleaning machine.

He sounds like he got a copy where the hole was punched off-center.

Certainly needs something expensive. For the right price I'm sure we can fix him up.
