Subject: Xbox, Wii or PS3?

With all the gaming platforms available, which one is your favorite? I think Wii is kind of lame and PS3 doesn't seem very organized when it comes to online play. What do you think?

I am not that much of a gamer. For the things that I like to play, the wii is enough. It is kind of falling behind in innovation and games. I have been hearing great things about the xbox with the kinect. However, we don't have money to get a new game console.

We are pretty happy with our Wii system. We rather play outside than in front of a TV. However, on rainy days we all play the Wii. It might be lame to hardcore player, but for us it is entertaining enough.

One current fault with the 360 is that Kinect is trying to emulate the Wii, and that is not a good thing. It's still my favorite console nonetheless. I am addicted to the achievement system.

I used to have a Wii, but the lack of good games outside of Nintendo's first party games made me end up selling it to get an Xbox 360. I love the 360 and there are so many games to choose from.

I like the Wii but then I am lame like that. I prefer less complicated controls and old school Nintendo games. Super Mario Brothers is still my favorite.

Anything but PS3. Their online security has been broken into so many times in the past years and credit card information just keeps on getting stolen. If I were you I'd choose the XBOX since they have just about the same target audience as the PS3 so the games aren't that different xx
