I am really amazed at the sound you can get from a small, portable speaker for your iPod/iPhone. I bought a Logitech S715i, and I just love it! It works really well in a small room.

I know it is amazing! I do find that my ears are becoming accustomed to "good enough" however. I find that I used to listen to music with a lot more observation. Now that it is so prevalent, I am listening with more of an ear for what is convenient, if that makes sense.

I need to buy me new speakers for my MP3. I will have to check them out. How much did it cost. Was it affordable? Did you buy online or at a store?
