Has anybody else seen While She Was Out? I don't remember seeing it advertised but stumbled across it and I am sure glad I did! I think it is one of the best suspense/scary movies I have seen in a long time. I rarely watch movies more than once and I watched this one twice already.

I haven't seen it because I tend to avoid scary movies or books. I used to watch them on late night TV and be unable to go to bed after. Is this likely to do the same?

I've never heard of this movie - it must have been one of those that went straight to video. I'll look for it, though, I love a good thriller!
