For the first time in a while I am going to be spending a substantial amount of time in my car, upwards of four hours per day. I am looking to upgrade the audio system in the car. I was looking at JBL because of the MS-8 integration digital processor. It auto-tunes the existing equipment. Anyone else put this in their car?

I haven't but it sounds like a great idea, almost in the too good to be true category. Looks like it's about $800. Can you add components to after the fact?

Have you had a chance to listen to it in action? Auto-tuning can sound great or it can sound terribly awful and artificial. I would listen to a demonstration before buying.
