

---

Subject: What radio stations do you listen to?

Posted by BornThisWay on Wed, 03 Aug 2011 23:06:35 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Which ones? And are they local or just one of those big name national ones that a lot of people listen to all over the country? Do you listen to it for music or for talk shows (current events, issues, sports, etc.) or sporting events? I don't listen to much radio in general, but I don't mind listening to local channels, although they really seem to play the same songs all the time. I don't mind listening to stations elsewhere in the country though, those are good too, especially since a lot of the bigger named ones tend to have a bigger selection of music. A lot of the time, though, I'd rather listen to my own music or Pandora.

---

---

Subject: Re: What radio stations do you listen to?

Posted by Chicken on Thu, 04 Aug 2011 14:43:20 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

I listen to a lot of local stations. I know most are owned by national corporations but the actual station isn't broadcast elsewhere. Mostly I listen to rock and pop.

---

---

Subject: Re: What radio stations do you listen to?

Posted by audioaudio90 on Thu, 04 Aug 2011 17:49:48 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Most of the stations I listen to are local although I also like Jack FM, which is at least regional, if not national. In addition, I listen to a Chicago station online.

---

---

Subject: Re: What radio stations do you listen to?

Posted by Danny on Wed, 17 Aug 2011 13:27:35 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

I have created my own Pandora station that I like to listen to, and now I am also subscribed to Spotify. My friends laugh at me for still listening to the radio, but I actually have a couple of personal friends who are radio DJs and I tune in to their shows most days.

---

---

Subject: Re: What radio stations do you listen to?

Posted by Equinom on Tue, 06 Sep 2011 16:10:33 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

I am a country girl, so I ALWAYS am listening to country. Usually it's a Froggy channel. You can get those in most states, I think. Oh, and also Y108...but I think that is just for the Pittsburgh area. Maybe not, though.

---

---

Subject: Re: What radio stations do you listen to?
Posted by gofar99 on Tue, 06 Sep 2011 22:36:51 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Hi, I don't listen often, but then it is often XM satellite radio. Usually in the car. I float between Vintage Rock, easy listening (when I get riled up) and Jazz. One thing I occasionally do is listen to music in HD on the Tucson FM stations (about 70 miles). I have a Sony XDR-F1HD tuner. It is really a bargain. Super sensitive (I can get some Phoenix stations in regular FM from just about 150 air miles with my external antenna). There was a write up on these things in Stereophile about a year ago or so. One of the best $80 I ever spent. A little thing about the size of a couple of books. All high tech inside, most likely derived from satellite technology as the case, as small as it is, is mostly empty.

---

---

Subject: Re: What radio stations do you listen to?
Posted by DJ Dave on Wed, 05 Oct 2011 11:54:58 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

I used to like an alternative station, but they have turned into more heavy metal. I prefer variety. So now, I just ride around in my car with the "search" feature going, and just stop it whenever I hear a song I like.

---

---

Subject: Re: What radio stations do you listen to?
Posted by mixinlady on Sun, 11 Dec 2011 16:16:43 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

I listen to a lot of NPR (National Public Radio) on FM. My husband found the station, and I've found myself listening along to the various programs that they offer on the channel. It has everything from politics to religious discussion to auto advice. I find myself learning new things often!

---

---

Subject: Re: What radio stations do you listen to?
Posted by Freddy on Tue, 28 Feb 2012 01:23:17 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Talk radio's not too bad once in a while. If I'm in my car by myself I often switch between music and talk radio, depending on the commercial schedules. It works to a degree, but unfortunately the commercials often overlap.

---

---

Subject: Re: What radio stations do you listen to?
Posted by timron on Mon, 19 Mar 2012 02:45:47 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

BornThisWay wrote on Wed, 03 August 2011 18:06 Which ones? And are they local or just one of those big name national ones that a lot of people listen to all over the country? Do you listen to it for music or for talk shows (current events, issues, sports, etc.) or sporting events? I don't listen to much radio in general, but I don't mind listening to local channels, although they really seem to play the same songs all the time. I don't mind listening to stations elsewhere in the country though, those are good too, especially since a lot of the bigger named ones tend to have a bigger selection of music. A lot of the time, though, I'd rather listen to my own music or Pandora.

I only listen to a handful of radio stations and they're all local. Here recently, I've taken a liking to the "I Heart Radio" app on Xbox 360, but even then I still listen to a local station coming from Atlanta. (I live in GA.) I listen for music; I can't stand the talk shows and I'd rather watch sports on TV.

---

---

Subject: Re: What radio stations do you listen to?
Posted by AdrianG on Sat, 24 Mar 2012 23:29:10 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

DJ Dave wrote on Wed, 05 October 2011 06:54 I used to like an alternative station, but they have turned into more heavy metal. I prefer variety. So now, I just ride around in my car with the "search" feature going, and just stop it whenever I hear a song I like.

A similar thing happened to me, so now I only occasionally listen to a couple stations that I used to like much more. I also browse stations in the car, mostly to try to find a good new song I haven't heard. Every once in a while I'll catch one that I missed, so that's always fun.

---

---

Subject: Re: What radio stations do you listen to?
Posted by Miami on Fri, 20 Apr 2012 17:43:09 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

When I get in my truck to go to work I always listen to the local country station. The DJ in the morning is kind of a dork but I don't mind....he plays good music

---