Do you think we can replicate watching movies inside theaters to our homes? I guess we can't replicate 4D cinemas but just wanted to feel like inside a regular movie theater.

My home theater is better than any theaters I've been in, mostly because my sound system is better. There are quite a few people here that have built home theaters like this. Do a search here to see what I mean:

Nice! I hope I could make this project of yours into my own home theater. How much do you think will it cost me to have that kind of home theater like yours? Let's say I will start from scratch.
