Who watches this show (on Starz and BBC in the UK?) I've been a fan of Torchwood since its first season. It's a decent season but of course Children of Earth is still the best. What do you guys think of it so far? It airs its last episode tonight! Hope it satisfies!

I need to check that series out. I love Dr. Who, and Torchwood is a spinoff, isn't it? I hope you enjoyed Friday night's episode.

Yes! You must! It's a more mature show tho, it's past watershed. I started watching because of John Barrowman!

And the finale was amazing! The series was not as good as season 3 but it was a great ending to the season!
