Over the weekend, I had the fortune to attend a local festival. I never knew that Christopher Mintz-Plasse, who was McLovin from the movie Superbad, was also in a band. The name of the band is The Young Rapscallions. Chris's band was there and I actually had the opportunity to talk to him. He is an awesome drummer. If you ever get the chance to see him, you should check him out.

I absolutely, love Mclovin! I was not aware, that he was in a band. I am definately, going to have to look up the band, and see if they are playing any shows near me.
