Has anyone ever tried any of the Orange Crush amps? I like some of their other amps but I've never had a chance to use one of these. The price looks pretty good, but I wouldn't want to waste my money if the quality doesn't hold up.

I have the CR15, and it is a pretty good amp for being only 15 watts. This amp was meant for practicing, and can hold up to being lugged around.

The CR15 has quite a tonal range. The clean channel on the amp sounds great and the overdrive sounds pretty good. Overall, I would say give this amp a shot!

Thanks for the advice, Carson! The CR15 was one I was looking at, I've wanted a new practice amp for a while. I think I'll look around online and see if I can find one.
