I cannot wait to see this movie next week. "We bought a Zoo" - it looks so darn cute. Matt Damon plays a single dad and he has a teenage son and a young daughter. The previews look amazing - my teenage daughter wants to see it too. Anyone planning on watching this one?

I just saw that it's coming to our local theater on December 23rd! We are going to go! We always go see a movie right around Christmas as a family and this does look like a great family movie.
