Subject: Friends of ART
Posted by Wayne Parham on Wed, 21 Dec 2011 16:01:19 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

OK, not to get all mushy and weird, but I was struck today with how much I appreciate the regulars here that have become good friends. I do so much appreciate all of you that post here regularly. It's especially great when we get a chance to get together from time to time, usually in Dallas at the Lone Star Audiofest.

Subject: Re: Friends of ART
Posted by gofar99 on Wed, 21 Dec 2011 18:26:52 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Hi Wayne, all others on the forum. I really like the interactions as well. I want to thank all of you for the insights and friendship. Have some great holidays and see you in LSAF.

Subject: Re: Friends of ART
Posted by Shane on Thu, 22 Dec 2011 22:05:27 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Wayne, don't be weird

Really, it's been great getting to know you and everyone else through the years and it's always a pleasure to hang out with you on a Sat. afternoon at LSAF.

Have a Happy Holidays!!!!!

Subject: Re: Friends of ART
Posted by Bill Wassilak on Fri, 23 Dec 2011 02:34:42 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Ahh aren't you sweet . My garage is still open if you want to build your next development speaker system and yes the MAUL is still avilable , if the design screws up

Subject: Re: Friends of ART
Posted by AudioFred on Fri, 23 Dec 2011 14:10:14 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I second all the thoughts already expressed. Have an audio filled holiday, and I hope Santa leaves something nice under your tree or on your equipment rack - hopefully something with little glass thingies that make you feel all warm and mushy and glow orange in the dark.