This is a repost for any who missed my earlier message seekingthose interested in speaker DIY in Wisconsin. Since the forums fillup very fast I am going to repost once a month for a few months. I have compiled a mailing list from those who have already showninterest in having some contact with other hobbyists nearby. To prevent any misunderstanding: No events or meet-ups are currently scheduled in this area. The DIY Wisconsin list is made for the purpose of communication with other hobbyists in Wisconsin and environs. Just send a mail to lon@athenet.net and I will add your name. Here is a list of the places I am posting this message: No doubt I have missed some important ones. Please feel free tomail me with additional locations either for speakerbuilding orWisconsin to catch areas I may have missed.
