Didn't notice this post until now. At that price, they're a steal! I'll buy them back.

Seems like you bought those kits about a year ago. Did you just find that you never had the time to build them?

Hi Wayne,

I got a PM from somebody who wants them JUST before your post. If that deal falls through you are next in line.

I really wanted to give these a try. When I first bought the kit I was in a fairly large room, then moved into a smaller room, and then moved into a new place with an even smaller listening room. So no room for big towers . Going with a thinner design that's all.

I understand about the small room. As for the other buyer - That's good too. I'd actually rather they go to a good home. Spread the love!
