My mother has just given me a beautiful antique table that has a RCA Victor radio, model # 610V1 superheaterodyne in the cabinet to the right. Then a Victor Rola record player on left cabinet with open cabinets in the bottom. I'm going to bring it home next weekend because we have never plugged it in. It needs some love and care. Does anyone know any information about this info. I listed.

Here is some other information I found on the back
Golden Throat Tone
Chief eng. Home instrument Dept. 7
105-125 60 100
Series 14 chassis RC-610c
Ser # A042342

Hi I have no clue on the value but try this link for info....

It looks like it would be interesting to have, even if it eventually turns out not to be valuable.
