Does anyone else here like to watch animated TV shows? I've always liked South Park, King of the Hill and the older seasons of The Simpsons, but we just bought a new TV recently and the improved picture quality has really given me a new appreciation for adult cartoons, lol.

I'm not really into animated TV shows. I really prefer TV shows with people in them, but that's just me. However, movies are a different story! Some of the animated movies are amazing, and almost feel lifelike at times.

I like some animated shows, as long as I think something is funny I'll happily watch it. I like all of the ones you mentioned, you can't go wrong with those shows. I'm also a fan of Family Guy and The Life and Times of Tim.
