I guess it is time for us to trade in our old radio alarm clock for a newer Mp3 one. I am so tired of waking up to the same song everyday. I am all for the ocassional AC/DC song, but waking up to Highway to Hell every morning is just not for me!

I'm confused. Is it set to a radio station? Why would they play Highway to Hell every day at the same time?

Anyway, that would be super annoying. I don't blame you for wanting a change.
