Do you watch music videos online? If so, what decade and genres do you like to watch?

I occasionally stumble across a random 80s rock or pop video and will watch it, which spawns a search for others if I have time.

We have a few channels on the TV (run through ATT Uverse) that do snipits of videos, but its actually just a music station. We seldom watch videos anymore but most times we range through all years, we even get into a few swing songs too.
