Has anyone here ever heard of Animusic? I first saw it on PBS a few years back, but they also have DVDs available for purchase. It's basically computer animated music, which sounds really simple, but looks REALLY cool. You should check it out via YouTube or run a Google search for their official website. Their newest DVD is even available in HD/Blu-Ray!

Yeah, I saw the Animusic special when it came on PBS, too. It's an awesome animated musical, and I can't even begin to imagine how much work went into it behind the scenes! I hadn't thought about Animusic for a long time before this post, but now I want the DVD!
