

---

Subject: Radio Subscription Services

Posted by iLoveiPod on Wed, 18 Apr 2012 19:25:47 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Does anyone use a radio subscription service, for commercial-free listening? Or do you still listen to the free radio stations, like I do, and "channel hop" during commercial breaks?

---

---

Subject: Re: Radio Subscription Services

Posted by gofar99 on Wed, 18 Apr 2012 19:36:38 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Hi I used to have Siris _XM satellite service. It was fine and reliable. Good quality sound. It just kept going up in price so I just decided one day that the cost per hour of my listening was getting excessive I quit. Right now it runs just under $30 a month for one receiver and about 10 more each additional. If you get a home and car unit you only need one.

---

---

Subject: Re: Radio Subscription Services

Posted by colinhester on Thu, 19 Apr 2012 01:39:05 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

I support our local classics station (WDPR) during pledge drives, but that's about it.....

---

---

Subject: Re: Radio Subscription Services

Posted by love2play on Thu, 19 Apr 2012 23:57:02 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

I still listen to free radio or I will stream some of the local stations on the computer if I am working. I just don't really see much point in paying for something you can get for free.

---