Three work days to go until retirement and one of the first projects on the list is building the Towers. I've had the drivers for awhile but couldn't decide how to package them. Just when I thought I'd settled on acrylic lacquer, this Birds-Eye Cherry (never heard of Birds-Eye Cherry before) jumped off E-Bay and into my arms

Cool, huh?

How I wish Dallas was a little farther back on the calendar but I'm afraid I'll have to give it a pass once again. Next year, who knows, but I'll really try to get there.
