Subject: The $5 bin
Posted by LuvMartin on Wed, 02 May 2012 16:30:38 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Does anyone else regularly search through the $5 bin of DVD's and cd's at Walmart? We always look and most of the time we come out empty handed, but sometimes you find some really great movies. Today we discovered Jeremiah Johnson with Robert Redford. That movie is totally worth $5!

Subject: Re: The $5 bin
Posted by Equinom on Sat, 05 May 2012 23:36:26 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

As a college student, you can almost guarantee that you will find me & the majority of my friends over by the $5 bin. Most of the time, we don't get anything. Nothing really interests us, but every once in a while we do get lucky!

Subject: Re: The $5 bin
Posted by TurnItUp on Sun, 06 May 2012 00:50:06 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Sometimes you can find really great movies in the $5 bin. Usually if you come out with a good find it will be months and months before you find another one.

Subject: Re: The $5 bin
Posted by mixinlady on Fri, 11 May 2012 04:44:01 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

No, I don't bother looking in them in all honesty. Bad movies and movies I have never heard of are not even worth five dollars in my eyes. I'd rather scope out the library for recent, FREE flicks.

Subject: Re: The $5 bin
Posted by LoveJB on Mon, 28 May 2012 12:03:23 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Never! I hate how they are so disorganized. I don't have time to look through them all - even for $5. I rarely buy movies though. Our Wal-Mart does not have a $5 bin for music, just movies.