We're thinking of switching to a no-contract deal with Virgin Mobile. If you've used Virgin Mobile, do you like them? I like the price but have no experience with them.

I know a few people who have used them and liked them. Right now we are using no contract pay as you go Tracfones and we have been pretty happy with those. I am about to turn off our home phone service because we don't get anything but telemarketing calls.

Thanks for letting me know. We are also considering AT&T GoPhones because it's a better network, but the phones and plans are better for Virgin Mobile.
