Can you listen to Pandora in the car? How did you do it? I can see using your smartphone, maybe, but wouldn't that use a ton of data?

I love Pandora, and wish I could use it when I am driving. You could probably use your smartphone (which I do not have!), but I don't know how effective that would be. Some of the newer more expensive vehicles may now have a way to connect to the internet and access Pandora and other such websites. Not sure though!
