I guess the Bay Area has started having an audio show; this weekend is the third annual show. Does anyone here live close enough to attend?

Hi never heard of it, but would like to see some info for next year. I plan to go to RMAF in October, but a trip to the Bay area would be nice if knew about it in time.

I know what you mean; I would love any excuse to go to the Bay Area. I haven't been to San Francisco in years but love that city. Anyway, here is their website.
