What are some movies out there that I absolutely must see? I'm leaning more towards comedy and action, and I hate horror. Every time I choose a movie on my own to watch at the movie theaters I always end up watching something terrible.

I know it's a bit out there and is getting just a little old, but try watching the Avengers. I have heard nothing but good things about the movie. Of course, its not comedy, but it is full of explosions and action.

I just watched it for the first time about two weeks ago. I must say, it is definitely something that I wish I had seen sooner. I love the little comedic moments in the movie, too.
