Have you ever been in a hot air balloon before? Right now my town is hosting our local Laborious Day festival which means hundreds of hot air balloons. I am thinking about going up this year.

Hi, Going up in a hot air balloon.... my wife says I am one

They have an annual festival in town and about 50 usually participate and the one in New Mexico (about 400 miles from here) has hundreds. Very cool to watch, but I believe I'll pass on the ride.

I have never really wanted to "take a ride" before either. I don't know why I want to this year. I just hope the weather cooperates so they can go up. They have launches Friday, Saturday and Sunday at 6am and 6pm. Monday at 6am.
