Hi Everyone, For many it has been a rather difficult year. Personally I have been quite fortunate. My second year into retirement from the rat race and second year as well as a full time designer and tinkerer in audio. Several successful products are on the street or in the works and in the process I have met a lot of great folks. Better still I now have three wonderful grand daughters and sufficient health and energy to enjoy them. For all this I am thankful.

I wish all of you equal reasons to be thankful. If I could change the world to make it that way for everyone I would not hesitate a second. All I can offer is hope and encouragement. Seek happiness and satisfaction when you can and look ahead to less trying times.

I second the wishes for good holiday cheer to everyone. It's easy to see the sky falling these days. But in spite of everything, one should count their blessings. We're still in pretty good shape, and I think if we always do the "next right thing", God will take care of the rest.

OK, I know that sounded really smooshy-gooshy so I promise not to say anything like that again. But just know I'm wishing you well.
