Well, I kept putting my Christmas shopping off and now it's pretty much too late to order anything online, unless I want to pay an arm and a leg for last minute shipping. Anyone else in my shoes?

Yeah, I'm afraid I'm there too. Year after year it's the same thing with me. I'll buy one or two presents here and there and before I know it I'm behind. Playing catch-up is kind a Christmas tradition with me.
