With all the talk of Tripath amps going around, I started to look at other audio gear that uses this technology. I came across Panasonic's TR25 and TR50. Has anybody given them a good listen? From everything I've come across, these are supposed to be the cat's meow (yeah, I'm running out of adjectives.).....Colin Panasonic has really embraced the technology, haven't they? I see them making Tripath-based devices for home, car and pro audio.
