We came across the movie Gattaca on Crackle last night and decided to watch it. Why had I never heard of this movie before?! It's great! It's a futuristic sci-fi thriller starring Uma Thurman (Kill Bill) and Ethan Hawke. If you haven't seen it, I would definitely recommend you check it out.

I agree! That was one heart-stopping, chilling movie! I watched it glued to every dark image. I can't understand why it wasn't more popular. Maybe too grimly believable.

I remember it coming out but I never watched it. It didn't seem very successful so I guess I figured it wasn't worth a viewing. Now that I've heard differently, I guess I'll go check it out.

Does Redbox have it? That's the only way I do movies right now. I don't watch Sci-fi too much unless it's really good, and so far I'm seeing nothing but good reviews.
