Elementary schools in Marion Co. Florida have lifted a 2 year old ban on paddling students. Are you for this or against it? Personally I'm for it but only if I were there as a witness.

The lack of proper corporal punishment is needlessly contributing to and worsening many of the problems plaguing our public schools. 99% of those problems could easily be solved by having a few business meetings between the Board Of Education and the Seat Of Understanding.

Heck yea I'm all for it, I've been to the principles office before, I'd rather take a couple wacks on the arse (british term for ass) rather than have them get a hold of my parents. Because I'd get in more trouble at home than I would at the principles office. It's worth it and it didn't bother me.
