I know it's still a month away but do any of you have a wish list for your fathers day gift? I don't have anything specific right now but I do still have a month to decide.

Hi, Well yes a new Audio Technics AT PTG33 phono cartridge, considering they are available only from Japan and cost in the $500 range....I'll probably have to buy on on the sly and sneak it into the house.

My husband will get a handmade card from the kids and I'll make him a nice dinner, but that's about it. We don't celebrate Mother's and Father's Day that much.

I want a sound dock for my i-pod. Please? Bose would be preferred.

I could go on with the list but that would be dreaming at that point.
