I saw the new Star Trek movie the other day and thought it was pretty good. It was a little weird seeing the reversal of events between Spock and Kirk (I don't want to get more specific than that) but I enjoyed it all the same.

Have you seen it yet?

No, I haven't seen it yet and frankly that surprises me. I would have thought my husband would drag me to see it during opening weekend but he's been pretty busy. I think we're going in a couple days, though.
