I have a friend who uses old wooden wine boxes to store his collection of movies. He has quite a bit. Is there anything kind of "Off The Wall" that you use to store movies?

I used to use old produce crates back in the day. I've been using shelving though for the past few decades though. From "off the wall" to on the wall, literally.

I store my DVDs and BluRays in one of my bookshelves. As I've moved to more ebooks, I've had a lot of bookshelves to use. Now we are also starting to store more movies electronically as well.
