Subject: Scary movies for tweens
Posted by roxxi on Tue, 30 Jul 2013 22:50:20 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

My tween daughter wants to watch scary movies with her friends this weekend. Some of the girls coming over don't like really scary movies. What are some good ones to rent for them? They can be classics.

Subject: Re: Scary movies for tweens
Posted by Smitty on Fri, 02 Aug 2013 00:40:35 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

You could try some of the scary ones that are a bit of comedy too like Zombieland and Sean of the Dead. Warm Bodies might even be a good choice. That way it isn't strictly scary and the others won't feel left out.

Subject: Re: Scary movies for tweens
Posted by Chicken on Sat, 03 Aug 2013 00:32:02 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Shaun of the Dead is a good choice, although I don't remember if it's too adult for that age. Anyway, I don't even like zombie movies and I enjoyed that one. You may want to talk to your daughter and tell her that since some of her friends would be uncomfortable with truly scary movies, you are going with those that have a lighter tone.