How do you clean your vinyl records? Do you wipe them with a soft cloth or do you use a cleaning solution? I've never seen anyone actually clean records other than blowing on them to get some dust off.

Hi, I use a Record Doctor machine now. Works great. For some time I used a Spin Clean. It worked OK, but the RD is is better.

With the turntable I used to have, you could take off the part that houses the needle. With that off, just wrap a small cloth on the end of the tone arm and let it go trough the motions.
