Normally, I am not a huge fan of Jennifer Aniston movies, but We're the Millers looks really funny. It has a wonderful cast including Jason Sudeikis, Ed Helms and Emma Roberts. I might even pay to see this one at the theater!

This isn't really ringing a bell for me. What is it about? The cast does look fairly decent.

I haven't been to the theater since Iron Man 3 came out.

Basically, Jason Sudeikis play a man who has agreed to be a drug mule and hires some people to play his wife and kids. The movie is about what happens on the way to make the exchange. It looks pretty funny.
