Do you have a lot of artwork in your house? What kind of art do you like? We have quite a few paintings. Most are fairly literal landscapes, although we do have a couple Cubist pieces as well.

We have some landscapes and cityscapes, but that's about it. I have some knickknacks too; I'd call them sculptures but they are mass-produced so the word doesn't quite fit.

Hi, I'm not sure that it is generally listed as art work, but we have a large number of western and native American wall hangings. They also act as sound deadening and help curb reflections.

If dogs playing poker is considered artwork, then wall hangings can be. I love Native American themes when it comes to pictures. There's something both sad and beautiful about it all.
